Agreement between Pininfarina, MT Distribution and Helbiz: production and design Made in Italy for an elegant and distinctive micro-mobility

- The future of electric urban mobility leans on the partnership between three international companies: Pininfarina, a symbol of the elegance of Made in Italy products worldwide, MT Distribution, a company par excellence of production quality in the Italian Motor Valley, and Helbiz, a pioneer of green development and innovation in micro-mobility
- An Helbiz electric scooter designed in Italy by Pininfarina, produced in Italy by MT Distribution, and distributed on the sharing and retail market by Helbiz
- The strategic plan of the Helbiz continues with the production development of electric vehicles, which continues to generate new jobs and seek out talents
- Helbiz is the first micro-mobility sharing company to start production development in Italy, moreover with a prestigious collaboration
- The first phase will focus on scooters used for sharing, then those for consumer sales: a business expansion that will integrate sharing with direct sales.

New York, June 14th, 2021 - A collaboration amongst international companies comes to life with Helbiz, a global micro-mobility leader and recent acquiror of MiMoto Smart Mobility Srl, the Italian leader in the scooter sharing market, is the business combination target of GreenVision Acquisition Corp. (Nasdaq: GRNV), Pininfarina, the internationally renowned design house and emblem of Italian style worldwide, an ambassador of “know-how” whose roots are in the history of Italy, with a natural propensity for innovation and the future of mobility; and MT, a company of the Italian Motor Valley leader in the design and production of urban micro-mobility solutions, a solid company that is renowned worldwide in the area of urban electric mobility, thanks to its complete offering of electric scooters, e-bikes, e-mopeds, accessories and spare parts.

With this production development of electric vehicles announced today, the strategic plan of Helbiz continues with the looking for talents and above all to generate new jobs.

Helbiz is the first micro-mobility sharing company to start production development in Italy, moreover with a prestigious collaboration which involves the development of a coordinated and customizable design by Pininfarina for Helbiz, for a new range of electric micro-mobility vehicles; with its expertise and its specialization in e-mobility solutions, MT Distribution will take on the production of Helbiz vehicles. The first phase will focus on scooters used for sharing, then move on to those for consumer sales. This will expand the business by integrating direct sales with sharing.

Both sharing customers and buyers will have access to an electric scooter designed by Pininfarina, produced in Italy by MT Distribution and distributed on the market by Helbiz.

The products resulting from the collaboration among the three companies will be progressively revealed to the public over the course of the year, following the strong growth trend of the market towards urban micro-mobility.

This is a global project with particular reference to Italy, Europe and the United States, and regards all means of electric, green and shared micro-mobility. The entire fleet of scooters, e-bicycles and e-mopeds will have a “family feel” design, making all vehicles unique and immediately recognizable.

The project starts off with the scooter, a symbol of ecological sustainability by Helbiz, through a dedicated engineering and development team shared by the three companies, to then continue with electric bicycles and electric mopeds.

This collaboration is a concrete demonstration of the ability to merge physical and digital worlds through the use of skills.

Helbiz was the first company to intercept urban electric micro-mobility in Italy, combining a concrete benefit for customers, administrations and the environment, allowing its solid expansion. With 400 employees globally, including well over 220 in Italy, and a significant strategic growth plan, Helbiz is the Italian market leader with a share of more than 20% of the electric micro-mobility market across Europe, while it continues to expand and hire local staff to manage its operations worldwide. The multi-year industrial plan provides for an increase in activities, with a consequent increase in the personnel employed by Helbiz. While it operates in approximately 40 cities worldwide, Helbiz is a structured company that has decided to invest in Italy in this post-pandemic period, as it is crucial for the country. In addition, Helbiz, as a result of its acquisition transaction with GreenVision Acquisition Corp. to be completed in the third calendar quarter of this year, will become the first publicly traded micro-mobility company on the U.S. Nasdaq Capital Markets.
